DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 4 recites the broad recitation 10-100 nm, and the claim also recites 20-60 nm which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tundermann'584 in view of Levine'087.

The applied Tundermann'584 teaches that it is well known in the art to make and use copper -based metal flakes that contain at least one additional alloy component. See column 2, lines 25-45, column 6, lines 38-66, column 7, lines 1-18, column 11, lines 15-20, claims. The Tundrmann'584 does not specifically teach that flakes are produced via vacuum deposition, stripping and comminuting. However, Levine'087 discloses that it is common in the art to produce metal flakes via vacuum deposition, stripping of the films and subsequent comminuting of the films. See column 4, lines 1-59.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use teachings of Levine'087 in Tundrmann'584 to improve mechanical and visual properties of resulting metal particles. Also, it would have been obvious to make metal flakes having the anticorrosive layer of oxide since such would prevent oxidation of the particle surfaces. Finally, it would have been obvious to optimize process steps in production of particles since such would improve surface properties of such particles.
